Nancy, Feb. 23.

YOU are surprized no doubt that you have heard nothing from your Friend and Correspondent the Inspector General of the Farms of this Dutchy, for six Weeks past; but I can tell you, that you will hear no more from him, for he had the Misfortune to fall, and strike his Head against a Stone about the Bigness of an Egg, which fractured his Scull, and in a Short Time he died in the Street. We have lost a good Friend by his Death. However we are here in an inconceivable Joy, on account of the Marriage of the Duke of Lorrain with the Archdutchess; but I am afraid this Joy will soon turn into Mourning, because of the Changes we are threatned with. The Lord Marshall, a Lieutenant General in the Service of Spain, who was dispatched for Italy, turned short by the Way, on account of the Peace, and came privately to Strasburg, to visit his Brother, a Lieutenant General in the Russian Service, and is again departed, whether for Spain or elsewhere we know not. We hear the Prince Royal of Prussia was daily expected at Cleves. It seems there is a great Difficulty attends the Honourary Affairs of King Stanislaus, particularly as to granting him the Title of King of Poland, and Grand Duke of Lithuania. The States of Poland, &c. will allow him to make use of the said Titles, but they do not know how to bring it into Form consistently with the Laws and Constitutions of that Kingdom, without coming to a new Election in Favour of Augustus, after the proposed Abdication; for such a Measure must annul all the Kingly Acts of King Augustus, as in the Case of an Usurper hitherto; and Stanislaus only be recognized a lawful King during that Time. How these Matters will be got over, puzzles these who think of it.

London, Jan. 15. Letters from Vienna say, That the City fills with Strangers on account of the approaching Marriage. In the mean time, the French Merchants at Paris are on the Laugh again, for the excessive Gain they have made by the Sale of Jewels, Toys, rich Cloaths and Trinkets, provided on that Occasion. The Pope's Dispensation arrived the 4th Inst. the Duke being third Cousin to the Archdutchess; and it is said, his Holiness, to render the Ceremony more solemn, will send a Legate a latere to Vienna, to give the illustrious Couple the Nuptial Benediction.

From Hamburgh, That new Difficulties having been started, their Accommodation with the Court of Denmark, is as far off as ever; and that the Danish Frigate is returned to her old Station at the Mouth of the Elbe, in order to seize their Shipping, as was practised the last Year.

They write from Rome, That of 44,000 Imperialists at present in Italy, 30,000 are in the Ecclesiastical State: That Provisions are so scarce, that they are glad to eat the very Cattle which die of the Murrain: That no less than a Famine is apprehended in Ferrara: And that the Inhabitants of the Bologneze, have at length agreed to pay Civility-Money to the Imperial Troops, upon Condition of their living quietly amongst them.

The seven Galliots which the Spanish Cruizers took some little Time ago from the Emperor, are ordered from Naples to Leghorn, and in all probability will be employ'd in carrying away the Spaniards from Tuscany, so that the Emperor will have Satisfaction to see them put to a much more agreeable Use than any he could have expect to employ them in whilst his own.

The Protestants of Poland and Lithuania are preparing a Memorial to be presented to the next General Diet, containing a Catalogue of their Grievances, and the Attempts that have been made upon their Civil and Religious Rights and Privileges.

London, Jan. 22. When the Pope's Nuncio at the Imperial Court complained to the Emperor against the Quarters taken by the Germans in Italy, he was answered to this Effect, That

That it was amazing that the Pope ſhould make ſuch heavy Complaints againſt the Imperial Troops, for taking Winter Quarters in the Provinces of Bologna, Ferrara, &c. aſtoniſhing indeed, that he, the Pope, who had granted ſuch a free Paſſage through the Eccleſiaſtical Eſtate to the Enemies of the Houſe of Auſtria, ſhould now make ſuch a Rout about the Quarters and Paſſage of the Troops of Him, who was of Rome the Emperor!

London, Jan. 29. On Tueſday William Davis was committed to Newgate by Col. D'Veil, for felonioufly marrying Anne Appletree, a Daughter of Mr. John Appletree, a Yeoman of his Majeſty's Guards; his firſt Wife, Amy Amos, otherwiſe Davis, being alive. It ſeems he made a Propoſal to the firſt Wife, of giving her 20 l. if ſhe would deny her Marriage, which ſhe refus'd; he only wanted her to do this, till he could receive the ſecond Wife's Fortune, which as ſoon as he had done, he intended, by his own Confeſſion, to marry three or four more Wives. He is alſo charged with having feloniouſly ſtolen Goods to a great Value, from his ſecond Wife's Father, who proſecutes him for the ſame; ſo that in all probability he will not get off with being burnt in the Hand only.

London, Jan. 31. The Rev. Dr. Lavington having received a Commiſſion from the Truſtees for eſtabliſhing the Colony of Georgia, was pleas'd to recommend this National Charity in an excellent Sermon he preached laſt Sunday at his Church of St. Michael Baſſiſhaw, and particularly that Branch of it (for whoſe Promotion a Subſcription is ſet on foot at the Office) the Building of Churches.

London, Feb. 2. From Conſtantinople we learn that they had Advice there by Expreſs, that 60,000 Ruſſians had with a large Train of Artillery entered the Crimea, and killed a great Number of the Tartars, as alſo ravaged all the Country dependant on the Porte: This News, they tell us, had at firſt alarmed that Government in ſuch Manner, that they were going to fit out a ſtrong Squadron, and ſend thither in all haſte, 30,000 Men from the Romelia, beſides 3000 Janiſſaries, and 4000 other Troops; but by a ſecond Expreſs they were adviſed, that the Ruſſians had only made that Irruption, to make Repriſals for ſome of the Tartars having entered, and committed great Diſorders upon the Czarina's Territories. The Prime Viſier had thereupon complained to the Ruſſian Ambaſſador at Conſtantinople, who pleaded Ignorance of that Affair, but promiſed to impart the ſame to this Court. There were many, that imputed that Incident to the new Prime Miniſter, to get him diſgraced, and depoſed from that eminent Poſt; but he was aware of their Machinations in Time, and has cauſed ſeveral of the Seditious to be beheaded, and many others baniſhed, whereby the Capital we are told, enjoys its former Tranquility. However, private Letters from Conſtantinople inſinuate, that the Generality of the Turks wiſh for a War with Ruſſia, and a Peace with the Perſians; and tho' the Government publiſhes the Preliminaries of the Peace with the latter, they are too well informed from other Parts, that Thamas Kouli-Kan is far from being cordially diſpoſed to an Accommodation with the Porte.

It is confirmed from Venice, that all the Hopes of an approaching Peace between Thamas Kouli-Kan and the Porte are vaniſhed.

The Junto, or Tribunal, eſtabliſhed at Naples for ſuppreſſing ſeditious Practices againſt the new Government, having finiſhed their Proceedings againſt the Ladies, have begun with the Monks and Fryers, many of whom have been put under Confinement in their Convents, for having let their Tongues take too much Liberty.

From the Daily Advertiſer, March 6.

'Tis ſtill ſaid, that the Plenipotentiaries of the ſeveral Powers, who were concern'd in the late War, or have been invited to take Part in the preſent Pacification, will meet at the Hague in a Sort of Congreſs to ſign the General Treaty of Peace.

The French King's Secretary at War has actually declared to the Officers, who made the laſt Campaign, That they had nothing to do but diſpoſe of their Equipages as faſt as they could, for that the preſent Peace was built on ſuch Foundations as would leave them no Room for any further Uſe as long as they liv'd.

London Evening-Poſt, March 4.

Letters from Lisbon give an Account of a terrible Fire that happened there in the Houſe of the Secretary of State, which, with all the fine Pictures and Furniture were conſumed, and the State Papers ſaved with Difficulty.

The ſame Letters add that the King of Portugal had ordered the raiſing 10,000 Men forthwith, in Order to be ready in Caſe of an attack from the Spaniards.

Vienna, Feb. 11. The Cloaths, and other Ornaments deſigned for the Nuptials of the moſt Serene Archdutcheſs, were expoſed to publick View for ſome Days in one of the Halls of the Palace, and exceed in Magnificence any thing hitherto ſeen of the Kind; and ſuch a prodigious Crowd flocked to ſee thoſe Curioſities, that ſeveral Perſons were wounded, and a Gentleman belonging to the Law was, amongſt others, killed by a Stroke of a Halbert, which was given him inadvertently by a Serjeant, who was placed there to keep the People in Order. There were amongſt other things, two very magnificent Toilets; two compleat Services, one of which was a Vermillion of exquiſite Taſte and Workmanſhip; the Arms of Auſtria were engraved on each of thoſe Pieces: There were fifty Suits of Cloaths, wrought with Gold and Silver of different Colours and Deſigns, and the like Number of Head Dreſſes, the Lace of which coſt 60,000 Florins. There were beſides a great Quantity of ſmall Baskets full of Fans, Ribbons, Gloves, &c. which were computed at 200,000 Florins, without reckoning the Jewels;

Jewels; the Empreſs herſelf was at the Pains of chuſing out thoſe Niceties.

The Wardrobe of the Duke of Lorrain was likewiſe publickly ſhewn, and conſiſted of Twenty-four Suits of Cloaths, of Gold and Silver Tiſſue. His Highneſs has cauſed 600 Gold Medals to be ſtruck, worth three Ducats each; on one Side were ſeen the Buſtos of the moſt Serene Archdutcheſs, and of the Duke of Lorrain; and on the other, an Altar, on which are two burning Hearts, and at Top, Religion, which crowns them, with this Device, Tandem Votorum compotes, that is, They are at laſt arrived at the Height of their Wiſhes: That Prince has alſo cauſed a great Number of Silver Medals to be ſtruck, to the Value of 150 Marks.

[An Account of the Wedding will be inſerted in our next.]

Charles-Town, in South-Carolina, March 20.

Yeſterday arrived here the Ship London Merchant, Capt. Thomas, and the Ship Simond, Capt. Corniſh, both from Georgia, from whence we hear, that when Mr. Oglethorpe went up Allatamaha River to Barnwell's Bluff where the Highlanders are ſettled, he put on a Highland Dreſs, with a Bonnet, Target, Plad, Broad-Sword, Piſtols, &c. which ſo diſguis'd him, that the Highlanders, who had heard of his coming, cried out, when he was among them, Where is Mr. Ogletborpe? Where is Mr. Ogletborpe.

At Night they had prepared a good Bed for him, but he abſolutely refus'd it, and went with Capt. Dunbar into the Woods, where they had made a Fire, it being cold, and ſlept there all Night.

Mr. Ogletborpe is now building a Fort of four Baſtions on the Iſland of St. Simons, where a Canoe cannot paſs without going very nigh the Fort, which is called Frederica. There are already more than 200 Men at Work about it. It is ſaid that he deſigns a larger and much better Fort on the S. Weſt End of the ſaid Iſland.

He deſigns alſo a new Town behind Frederica, of which the People are very fond, the Land there being all cleared, and extraordinary good. The Spaniſh Court had ſent a Gentleman, Mr. Dimsky, along with Mr. Oglethorpe from England, who is gone to St. Auguſtine, in order to ſettle the Boundaries between Georgia and that Government, and it is hoped that the Frontiers of Georgia will be fixed on the River St. Juan. Major Richards, fully inſtructed by Mr. Oglethorpe, is gone to St. Auguſtine on that Account three Weeks ago.

B O S T O N, May 10.

We are inform'd by Capt. Reed, who arrived here from London on Tueſday laſt in 9 Weeks Paſſage, that in the Lat. of 40 d. 17 m. he met with a Scooner one John Sander Maſter, bound to Maryland from North-Carolina, having been 6 Weeks and 4 Days from thence, in a miſerable Condition, they being almoſt ſtarv'd, having thrown one of their Hands over-board that Morning who was ſtarv'd to Death. Capt. Reed ſupply'd them with Proviſions and ſomething to mend their Sails, which were very much torn, in order to proceed on their Voyage. They had on board a Woman and ſix Children, who choſe rather to come hither with Capt. Reed than truſt themſelves in their own Veſſel again. The Woman and Children we hear are ſent to the Alms-Houſe.

Philadelphia, May 20. Friday night laſt died here Mr. Henry Flower, in a very advanc'd Age. He was one of the firſt Settlers, and had been Poſt-Maſter of this Place for many Years. A vaſt number of People of all Ranks teſtified the Reſpect they bore him, by attending his Funeral, which was performed on Sunday Evening.

Tueſday laſt, during the Fair, a Fire broke out at one end of the long Row of Buildings near the Draw-bridge, and had like to have carried the whole Row; but by the Diligence, Courage and Reſolution of ſome active Men, it was ſuppreſs'd beyond Expectation, having only conſum'd the Roofs of two Houſes, and damaged ſeveral others. The Engines did great Service.

The ſame Day arrived Capt. Bond from Briſtol, with a Number of Servants.
